Reno

me i got a million lies an eye aint even batting they come to me a million times and i've used up a thousand i switch it up around again i guess you'll be the liar you don't have to dig it you just have to try it on in my head look at me a million times you think my brain is rabid cumin' back to me

they swear to god i am a savage i don't like the faces well i'm certain now you're clear they begin to stop me you won't like it when i stare wel i'm goin' down like that i'd take a trip but my mind's a trap all that i wanted, well it gets so bad i dont have the disciplin to breathe the open air no one has to listen when all they do is stare nothing here is recall its just an automatic you try to do the best you got to know the brain is savage
