Let go this ribbon of darkness now
And like a drunk I'll go fall, laughing down
You could tell me I'm no different
But I hear the full moon call my name
You can tell me how nothin' changes
Nothin' stays the same

Lost in a golden light
Lost in a golden light

And they tell you truth is a moment, it shines just like a flame
So let it shine on me and I'll stand when it calls my name
You can tell me I'm no different
But I hear the full moon call my name
You can tell me how nothin' changes
But nothin' stays the same

Lost in a golden light
Lost in a golden light

Hey, you can tell me I'm no different
But I hear the full moon call my name
You can tell me how nothin' changes
But nothin' stays the same

Lost in a golden light
Lost in a golden light
Lost in a golden light
Lost in a golden light
