Everybody wants to find a love
Somebody, somebody who will always care
But we get locked up in our own worlds
With feelings and secrets we're afraid to share
But all I have to do is see you smile
Or maybe, just maybe if I brush your hair
Something happens I cannot explain
And somehow, somehow I can understand
I'm gonna find you
I'm gonna find you, oh
(I'm reading your mind)
I know you by heart - You're so much a part of me
I know you by heart - Can't you see
It's no wonder I can love you the way that I do
I can finish any sentence you start
I know you by heart
I know everytime you're gonna call
I pick up the phone before it ever rings
And when you need some lovin', I'll be there
(I know you will)
Beside you anticipating everything
(Oh it's like I always say)
You're the one I want and all I want is you
(I'm inside your head)
I know you by heart - You're so much a part of me
I know you by heart - Can't you see
It's no wonder I can love you the way that I do
I can finish any sentence you start
I know you by heart
I know you by heart
So much a part of me
It's no wonder I can love you the way that I do
I can finish any sentence you start
I know you, I know you by heart
I know you by heart - You're so much a part of me
I know you by heart - So much a part of me
