From all the things that I have done
I finally know now that I have won
I have out smarted you
In everything you had to do

You are finally gonna get the help you need
And as soon as you're better you will be freed
This is the only option I have left now
I know you're wondering how

But in time you will know
I just want you to leave, just go
I just want you to stop
Before you get caught by a cop

This is the end of my sorrow
I don't want to see you tomorrow
I just can't stand it anymore
My heart is just to sore

And that is why you know
That no matter what you must go
Just remember you will always be in my heart
These rings are what keeps us from falling apart
