"I Have To Dance"

In the land of thousand dances, in the world that rules my senses, in my heart and soul a burning flame, when the Tango lights inside me when the rock starts rolling gently and the drums start beating in my brain

Chorus:

I have to dance, whenever the music starts to take me,
over and over I'll dance the whole night through.
I have to dance and every heartbeat takes me higher
over and over I'll dance the whole night through

Round and round we'll dance together, till the music stops forever and the last accord has faded away untill then I beg you baby, don't say no! - don't say maybe, let me have the next dance with you

I have to dance, whenever the music starts to take me
over and over I'll dance the whole night through
I have to dance and every heartbeat takes me higher

I have to dance, whenever the music starts to take me
over and over I'll dance the whole night through
I have to dance and every heartbeat takes me higher
