The Quickening

dripping off the edges of our eternity her tears clear our eyes to who is yet to be as we drop into the future will we see mother crying as she's asking why we find quicker ways to live and die will the neon way keep blinding us all to the quickening drying out on mean street lies our testimony our blood seals the way for what is yet to be if we make it to the morning will we see

will the neon way keep blinding

can you feel oh can you feel

sleeping through our children's dance with our legacy their screams waken us to when it just might be are we ready for the dawning will we see mother crying as she tells us why there's a better way to live and die
will the neon way keep blinding
do you feel the quickening
