They stay hiding in the walls and the Alleys scare the elderly people-just hide they want the best things that the world can provide or at the very least they wanna get by they wanna slide, they wanna see the glint of fear in your eye they want your watch without the hassle give up the keys to the castle Vandals, thieves, deadbeats, ignorant, dissident, innocent militant minds stay diligently focused, hope it's not your turn for the victim training, quit complaining, at some time you're guilty feel me in court, fill me a cell where I build a fort I stalk these blocks like I'm tracking prey, I'm behind you anyway
We watch these cops every lasting day, I've heard what they've gotta say to me, we play do we? You rap about me through your thug shit.
The ghetto reaches world wide and I love it, dug it like a trench
Building up a fence just to get my mark on the world, see my new tat two million ways to lie, so everyone's a con man in freedom land
Free to stand for principal, but keep your kids safe, fear aches.
Aches and pains need drugs so we provide, a wide pharmaceutical Range for the firing, flame to spoon that don't bend for Loons Cartoons teach guns and clenched fists, so I love the power rangers we're all strangers so no we don't talk, we see the danger and anger when we walk around, we look down, which makes us moving targets the market for everything is fueled by greed, so some of us bleed

Take chances when the risks seem worthwhile, I love how it feels to be foul.

I'm like fire-I have life-count the signs watch me grow-spread and flow-let 'em know push me away I'm two steps closer everyday. sometimes twelve
Held close by the individualistic, delve into normal lives You mostly miss it, litter bug, jaywalk, loiterer, murderer, murder death kill me by changing your commandments push me with your moral high standing people make struggles for themselves to overcome, they win some, lose some winning every time sounds fine to most now, so most child's lie and boast now those piles of red tape cant stop corruption, another one of my constructions I'm a mindset, ask yourself do the blind lead the blind?
(you're blind)
thriving in the places you walk all the time, all the time in the world Is mine for the killing, find me a thrilling dance what. hands up if you feel the self imposed constraints (most of you can't)
You push that wall (the wall is me), push hard I'm where I'll always be Sci Fi fantasies imagine me gone, they sing the wrong song Instead I get bigger. stronger. harder. subtler. larger. farther from the senses closer to the heart, you're my agent do your part Now there's crime. ignorance. negligence. apathy, this is you don't laugh at me I walk the talk and talk the absolute truth, everyday I'm behind you.
