Damn the machine, the system's corrupted
Abusive power is everywhere
Our elected officials, pass laws to help
But who's paying them off

And in the end
We the people pay
Such a heavy price
Just for being alive

And if this country was really free
We'd make paper from hemp and let the forest live
But corporate America and billion dollar industries

Have too much power
Yet they stand to lose
Too much fucking money
Well there's nothing we can do, but

Take back all that we've lost
At any price that it costs
Our freedom was worth fighting for
Resistance now or nevermore

And what about the CIA?
What the fuck is their real job anyway?
Starting civil wars in Third World countries
Importing heroin from the far east

Talk about cocaine
Neither kept away
From the youths of today
Now there's nothing we can do, but

Take back all that we've lost
At any price that it costs
Our freedom was worth fighting for
Resistance now or nevermore
