Just say the word

I'm right here, right here
In the midst of it all
And though it started raining
I'm still ready for the fall
Or the call
Just shout I'm about like
Traffic lights and zebra crossings
Hearts crossing reaching for a sign
Or a line to right out the wrongs
Like protein diets I'm just coming on strong
And road so long
Like the streetlamp light
It's just lonely
It's just lonely
It's just some damn lonely

Rain on me
And pull your hands out of the fire,
(Yeah yeah yeah)
Rain on me
And pull your hands out of the fire

My heart's in a hole
My heart needs a shovel
Reached this place so deep
It's just changing out to rubble
Or granite stone
Real cold, dark, in the wrong place
So I keep my eyes down
I can't look you in your face
Holding on, holding on
Parts of us just soldier on
Why the wind just bellows urging us to carry on
But it's hard
Things around seem to sink and fall apart
And all that's left is old bruises with fresh paint

Rain on me
And pull your hands out of the fire, oh oh

Rain on me
And pull your hands out of the fire

It's not what I wanted
It's not what I planned for
It's not what I wanted
It's not what we planned for
But we keep on trying
Yes we keep on holding on
Oh we keep on trying
Yes we keep on holding on
To something

Try try again
Maybe we can start it over
Like a record at the end
Come away my friend
We can skip over seas
Fly over mountains
And just chill under trees
I'm trying to be optimistic, positive
Bright-eyed
Cause I've got to slack away
These demons on my side
Stay close, it's just you
I need calm, wind breeze, time freeze
I will get our only chance
Slow move soul moves for the slow...

Rain on me
Rain on me

It's not what I wanted
But we keep on trying
Oh we keep on trying
To something
To something
