can't believe I was on my own
I didn't know how far I'd go
I tried to hide from you
But I'd leave to many clues
You can't believe I was on my own
I didn't know how far we'd go
I tried to hide from you
But I had left to many clues
You know I'm leaving
I know the feelings
You know I'm leaving
I know the feelings better than you
You can't believe now you're on your own
I've not a clue what you have done
You tried to call on me
What you should do is let me be
You know I'm leaving
I know the feelings
You know I'm leaving
I know the feelings better than you
You know I'm leaving
(I know you don't care)
I know the feelings
You know I'm leaving
(I know you don't care)
I know the feelings better than you
You can't believe now you're on your own
I've not a clue what you have done
You tried to call on me
What you should do is let me be
You know I'm leaving
(I know you don't care)
I know the feelings
You know I'm leaving
(I know you don't care)
I know the feelings better than you
You know I'm leaving
(I know you don't care)
I know the feelings
You know I'm leaving
(I know you don't care)
I know the feelings better than you

I know you don't care
I know the feelings better than you
I know you don't care
I know the feelings better than you
I know you don't care
I know the feelings better than you
I know you don't care
I know the feelings better than you
