Maybe you're too proud of your achievements
And it's changing you
It's changing you
It's time that you realise
That no one's denying you
Denying you
And it's time that you came to your senses
Came back to this world
Cause no one here cries for you
There's no one crying for you
And they turned you away
Yes they turned you away
Away from me No there will be nothing but memories where we once held your hand
We held your hand
We'll find you down in battlefield
Cause your story is over now
It's over now
But still the land burns my open book
Somewhere in your past
Yeah no one here cries for you
There's no one crying for you
And they turned you away
Yes they turned you away
Away from me
But still the land burns my open book
Somewhere in your past
Yeah no one here cries for you
There's no one crying for you
And they turned you away
Yes they turned you away
Away from me You turned away
But it's alright
You turned away
But it's alright
You turned away
But it's alright
