Oh, I remember you said can I fight and breathe
So now I always, always hold my breath you see You're my heaven, you're my spaceman in your shiny shiny suit
I'll send up all my prayers and hope they're understood

Love started making sense
I always make mistakes at my expense
Love has placed a seed
And you're the sun that shines down upon me

Yeah, when we are together
And when we are apart
There is no space in our hearts
I've got these feelings

It's been too long since I've tried to take the time
So now I'm fallin', fallin' into the sublime
When you brush against a stranger and you both apologize
And when you see there's something you recognize

Love started making sense
I always make mistakes at my expense
Love has placed a seed
And you're the sun that shines down upon me

Yeah, when we are together
And when we are apart
There is no space in our hearts
I've got these feelings

Love started making sense
I always make mistakes at my expense
Love has placed a seed
And you're the sun that shines down upon me

Yeah, when we are together
And when we are apart
There is no space in our hearts
I've got these feelings
