Ooh, yeah, you know

You could't cause me any harm

Although, at times, I may get startled

I'm not alarmed

I can see your eyes

I know when they're telling me untruths

I can feel the heart

Especially when it's on the roof

Of my mouth

There's no right or wrong

This isn't a test

And I won't lose my experience

I won't try

To put it aside

But it's alright

You know that it's alright

's alright

It's gonna be alright

's gonna be alright

And if I told you

Would you never know to guess?

Sure, what's the point
When little often means so much less
I can see for miles
I know when you're telling me untruths
I can feel my heart
Esepcially now. It's on the roof
Of my mouth
There's no right or wrong
This isn't a gesture
I don't use my experience
I don't try
To let it go by
But it's alright
You know that it's alright
It's alright
It's gonna be alright
