

Orton Beth

"Skimming Stone"

Visit "Skimming Stone" on MotoLyrics.com

Falling from the western selves
To find yourself alone again
Wonderin' where you have been.

Your lonely voice
Calls across the star lit coast
Reaching out to be seen.

She cries your name
Three times again
She cries your name
How long can this love remain?

Cut beneath the surface screen
Of what we say and what we seem
Is a truth to be seen?

She keeps cryin out your name
But her scream sounds the same
How fickle fate can be...

She cries your name
Three times again
She cries your name
How long can this love remain?

Birds would scream for territory
Can learn to sing euphorically
Give a hand time and hands ring out

And there's a wasteland in your soul
The burned out trees would leave you cold
Leave a hand out and I'll deal

She cries your name
Three times again
She cries your name
How long can this love remain?

She cries your name
Twelve times again

She cries your name
How long can this love remain?

Visit Orton Beth page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.