THE GIANT LEAP SOMEBODY ELSE LYRICS

I'm turning away, I'll face my world on a different day
Something new, anything else that doesn't remind me

I'll face it in time
But I will give in again and again
Afraid to lose, the memory of you

If I could take it back where we once stood
I will hold your hand any way I could
I could make it back to the world I knew
But it wasn't for me
It was for somebody else
Somebody else

I face the truth, tell me I'm as good as new I'm turning away, I'm waiting for a brighter day
So learn to fly, when nobody tells you how to come down
Still afraid to go on without you

If I could take it back where we once stood
I will hold your hand any way I could
I could make it back to the world I knew
But it wasn't for me
It was for somebody else

And now all the memories, are shattered broken far from home
And I could tell you how we could be,
But I know I couldn't make you see

I'm turning away, I'll face my world on a different day

Take it back where we once stood
I will hold your hand any way I could
I could make it back to the world I knew
But it wasn't for me

If I could take it back where we once stood

I will hold your hand any way I could
I could make it back to the world I knew
But it wasn't for me
It was for somebody else
Somebody else
