You've carried my name
But, oh, you just do it in vain
'Cause others have done so before
And yet I see them walk through that same door

Hypocrite, where will you run to now?
Hypocrite, you will get hurt somehow
Hypocrite, I know that time will tell on you
Hear what I say

I thought you were smart
But man, you've got a wicked, wicked heart
And, oh, you're just being used
When they're through, you will be refused

Hypocrite, where will you run to now?
Hypocrite, you will get hurt somehow
Hypocrite, I know that time will tell on you
Time will tell on you

I just can't understand
Why you got to be a wicked man, it's a doggone shame

I thought you were smart
But man, you've got a wicked, wicked heart
And, oh, you're just being used
When they're through, you will be refused

Hypocrite, where will you run to now?
Hypocrite, you will get hurt somehow
Hypocrite, I know that time will tell on you
Time will tell on you

You're nothing but a hypocrite
Yeah, yeah, boy, hypocrite
You're gonna meet your judgement, hypocrite...
