"A Second Skin"

I forgot myself again
So glorious to escape
So wonderful to recoil
A sense of numbness
A sense of joy
Scrape away a second skin
To reveal what lies therein
You said you want it all
The more we give, the more I fall

Should we wait for a judgement day
Or try to forge another way?
I wrote you on my epitaph
My sin was love Inamorata
Sometimes we need these things
To bring us back to life again
You'll find your perfect place
But can I lose myself again?

A second skin
Your perfect face
I lost myself
Forgot myself

A second skin
Your perfect face
