It's a little bridge now, baby

It's a little bridge now

Just a photograph

Kinda makes me laugh

It's a little kid now, baby

Some little kid

If I could solve your problems, what do you think I would be?

One stupid seagull, picking styrofoam up out of the sea

Don't have time for all your problems?

Why don't you solve them?

Take a look around

This is what it's now

It's a little bridge now, baby

It's a little bridge now

Just a photograph

Kinda makes me laugh

It's a little kid now

Pudgy dumb little kid

If I could solve your problems, what do you think I would see?

All of my beautiful banquet receipts have been layed out for me

It's been played out for me

Don't have time for your fear

Your truth and your queer little feets

And your joy and your sweet little boy

And you're trapped in your sphere

I'm sorry, but no one's home

I couldn't hear you and now I think I've lost you

I could have made it easier and you would think that's good

Don't remember feeling older any worse than feeling wooden and alone
