Intro):

Can I talk to you for a second

Got something I wanna say

Im remembering in the first days

You would never ever leave me alone

But now it seems here lately baby

That you are always gone

So tell me what am I suppose to do

Should I stay and wait for you

My heart is slowly aching for your love

And I dont know what to do so

1 Give me one good reason

I should stay

Your love is out of season

Be on your way

My eyes are tired of crying

So what are we gonna do

So give me one good reason

Why I should stay with you

Our love is like an hour glass

You know were running out of time

How could you go and do this to me
When you know its messing with my mind
I was there when you needed me
So why cant you see
I know you say that you love me baby
But your friends, they come before me, so baby
(Repeat 1)
I cant explain, no, no
How the joy youve given me has turned to pain
See Im not gonna cry no more baby
Im walking out the door, baby
Theres one thing I know for sure
Yeah yeah, yeah, baby
(Repeat 1)
Give me one more reason
Your love is out of season
Im tired of trying to please you
So thats why Im leaving you
Your love is out of season
