"Maybe Tonight"

And I fall to pieces.
And I'll sign the leases.
Turn against the sunlight.
Tell me something's not right.

How'd you go wrong,
In the same song?
And maybe tonight,
We'd get along.
When did we fall,
On top of it all?
And maybe tonight,
I'll give you a call.

Only if I'm able,
Will I set your table.
(Look behind the label.)

How does it end;
Do we start again?
And maybe tonight,
We could be friends.
Don't even start,
You're breaking my heart.
And maybe tonight,
It all falls apart.

Turn against the sunlight.
Tell me something's not right.

It's in the air,
But nobody cares.
And maybe tonight,
We're not even there.
Life isn't fair,
So why don't we share,
And maybe tonight...
