I had a dream, I saw a flower crying
Her silent scream was tearing up the skies
You braved your fears, you saved her bleeding petals
You wiped her tears, she smiled and bloomed again

Hey look around, you'll see the light, broken future lost in night
Feel the pain of soul betrayed, don't look away
What if it was you and I? What if it was our life?
It's a difference we can make for a brighter day

We care, we say, but words are cheap and empty
They pray, we fail, and children have to pay
Hold out your hand, we save ourselves by giving
The pain will end, we'll make a brighter day

Hey look around, you'll see the light, broken future lost in night
Feel the pain of soul betrayed, don't look away
What if it was you and I? What if it was our life?
It's a difference we can make if we awake

Look around, you'll see the light, broken future lost in night
Feel the pain of soul betrayed, don't look away
What if it was you and I? What if it was our life?
It's a difference we can make for a brighter day

I pray, my loving heart is beating
I know we'll, I know we'll make a brighter dayâ€¦

Hey look around, you'll see the light, broken future lost in night
Feel the pain of soul betrayed, don't look away
What if it was you and I? What if it was our life?
It's a difference we can make for a brighter day
