Someone leans against the mirrored marvel,
Reflecting rascal, anaemic article,
The part you least expected,
It commands, expand.

A flawless life form, the lowest level,
Rejects the offer, you carried further,
The talk is all so loaded,
When you can expand.

Expand to reach a surface suffocated,
Shown equipment too large to break,
You lunge yourself to the underground,
Got to expand, got to expand, expand.

A meager mission yields amazing purpose,
Rebuilds your offer and flies it homewards,
Its' past tense past attention
When you land, expand.

A stranger grips upon your face upturning,
You thrive on battle, you try to settle,
A prayer for making minus,
In the hand, expand.

The perfect host for the endless story,
The missing motion, the frozen ghost,
The heart stops part achieving,
When you stand, expand.
