"I Am War Again"

You must have seen me miles away cannon weight on a steel blade the night composed of wires alarms the enemies agrees to make all my weapons burnt of stamina abused power behind barriers all the misdemeanors close their eyes there is nothing you can do the uniform inside my mouth spits a cave into the virgin world glass shattered on the ghost of gods cuts a path where you can find me still carving "fuck yourself" on floodlit skin reminds me of the war i'm camouflaged and cut devoid of life the conviction read the same dead inside the midnight hits in slow motion i am war again make the brutal border lines back out of science i am war again i am war
