

Good Morning June

Another night of stomach pain
And your tears are all over my face again
Another night of regrets
And I can't say what it depends on anymore

But see, the night dies
And the morning looks so bright
See, the night dies and the morning looks so bright
In my eyes

Another night of selfish acts
And once again the silence is my fault
But I'm wordless when we've got to talk
And I shut my mouth when you ask "what's going on?"
Another night we'd like to forget
I think to just leave it behind would be best

But we don't need to, we don't have to
I don't need to, you don't have to worry
Cause it will change
And turn out fine
See, in the end it always does

See, the night dies
And the morning looks so bright
