I've got the sun in my eyes, this road will take me away
I'm running far to hide that girl has to pay
Her lights made me blind, the view just killed my eyes
Your face in my mind as I leave this life for a while

I run towards the sun with your face here in my mind
All I have is time, it's just hard to spend it right

I see it all with my eyes and I can feel it on my skin
Sorry, you won't see me around, I'm walking out as you come in
I've tasted it all in my mouth, you and all the other ones I've tried everything to try, that girl who took me is behind

I run towards the sun with your face here in my mind
All I have is time, it's just hard to spend it right
I run towards the sun with your face here in my mind
Have it all in mind, it's just hard to put it right

The faces, the places,
I turned them down
The cases, the traces,
It's hard to count
Don't know what I'm running from

I run towards the sun with your face in my mind
I have it all in mind, it's just hard to put it right
I run towards the sun with your face in my mind
I know the words and the lines, I just can't put them down
