Another wave crashed over you
It pull you in a spell
If I know you
I wish you well

It'll pull you further out to sea It'll pull you in a dream it's the last thing you want but you leave

On another day you'll be all seeing out your heart down and a northern whale wouldn't wait he'd be on the heart and down to you if you know me, you'll know
I love you

A nananana

Why can't you
But do you ever listen to the heart, its song and reach out

And when the counting comes to be I doubt you'd ever think of me
But I know it's dark now

On another day I'll be gone seeing out and holding but a northern whale wouldn't wait he'd be coming right there on the sound
If you wait, listen, you'll hear, I love you

On another day there's no way anything touch but northern whale wouldn't care he'd be be there waiting on the sound if you know me, you'll know I love you

If you know me you'll know
I love you
