"Behind These Walls"

We keep it all inside cause there's nowhere left to hide
Don't worry it's all right just close the door and lock it tight
Behind these walls those teardrops fall
We play the part so well sometimes it's hard to tell
That we are both alone we smile they all know
Behind these walls where teardrops fall

We keep pretending it's not over
But the rivers overflowing how long can we keep this going
The look in your eyes has gone that we keep holding on
I guess we should confess we could find happiness
Tear down these walls where teardrops fall [guitar]
I guess we should confess...
Behind these walls where teardrops fall
