Beautiful liar, heartless survivor
Where are you taking me now?
Smooth operator, do it all later
When will you ever come down?

I still believe in you now somehow
I still believe in you now

We've been together, year and forever
You should know me by now
There's trouble in my mind
I can't find the right lines, get to you somehow

I still believe in you now somehow
I still believe in you now

And that feeling that I get inside
Every time I see the sun in your eyes
Then the moon starts to crying, our hearts not denying
A feeling we can hold through the night

Beautiful dreamer, make my life sweeter
Dream a song in my heart
I'm running on empty, I know you've been tempted
Close the door from the start

I still believe in you now somehow
I still believe in you now

And that feeling that I get inside
Every time I see the sun in your eyes
Then the moon starts to crying, our hearts not denying
Feeling we can hold through the night

Beautiful liar, heartless survivor
Where are you taking me now?
Smooth operator, do it all later
When will you ever come down?

I still believe in you now somehow
I still believe in you now
I still believe in you now somehow

I still believe in you now
