With this cold air biting all around I'm in position to fall back down

i know you've got your doubts in me. But in the mean time...

We'll walk this off and you can talk the talk without these thoughts then i might as well be mindless.

I can dream in my sleep, but i wont sleep on my dreams

I walk with the city by my side tonight
It's me alone and things seem to feel alright
I know I'll be waking on the cold floor
I can't go through this routine anymore with the people you know and the things that you'll show is it right to keep your heart a secret have you loved, have you taken the time wheres the substance in you, cause i've got mine

'Cause I can walk this off and you can talk the talk without these thoughts then i might as well be mindless.

I can dream in my sleep, but i wont sleep on my
dreams

'Cause I walk with the city by my side tonight
It's me alone and things seem to feel alright
I know I'll be waking on the cold floor
I can't go through this routine anymore [x2]

Take it all back to the start
Do you know we can change this world one heart at a time

At a time when I'm losing my mind
Wheres the substance in you, cause I've got mine

'Cause I walk with the city by my side tonight
It's me alone and things seem to feel alright

I can't go through this routine anymore.
