It will never be the same
do as you do and you move yourself from the blame your the best at that and you put it on my shoulder making me the one to blame.
You could never except wrong and all alone,
you look at me with shame.
"who do you think you are?"
You used to say
everytime I try to put you in your place put you in your place.

No matter what the time of day you found a way to break me down again, make me feel like nothing and i know you don't get it. and that you probably never ever will but best friends arent suposed to make the kill.
Now I see your job.

I'll never wish you harm for it will come back ten fold.
and I hope you one day see what you'd do without me
I'll never wish you harm for it will come back ten fold.
and I hope you one day see what you'd do without me

"You'll never succeed"
just like you said it
one thing was to hold me back the phsycic said and I think I found it
and we're lookin around for it was you who i never wished it to be the comment broken
and we'll never be the same.

I'll never wish you harm for it will come back ten fold.
and I hope you one day see what you'd do without me
I'll never wish you harm for it will come back ten fold.
and I hope you one day see what you'd do without me

My best friend threw me away without a reason just to see how far I could fly.

But never look back to hard to take back just for the sake of remembering never look back to hard to take back just for the sake of remebering.

I'll never wish you harm or it will come back ten fold.
and I hope you one day see what you'd do without me
I'll never wish you harm or it will come back ten fold.
and I hope you one day see what you'd do without me

singing...
Do do do doo do
