You were nothing but an obstacle
In my pathway tripping me with my own trust
Without your hood of falsification
Your beauty is found to be nothing
But true revulsion and that's the only true thing about you
(The moon and stars still retain these eyes)

You're falling now as I move forward
Fueled by hope you couldn't take from me
And scarred by knowledge of painful winters
Christ still stands perfect in my mind
Christ still stands perfect in my heart

Jesus is the beautiful structure of love
Repent me to hope and love
Beware nihilists
You shall fall by the sword
Oh, God, brighten the Day of Judgment
You shall fall by the sword
