How did I know that everything would seem so clear
As when I saw you standing here
Fresher than the sweetness in water

And just as a light will help to shine the way ahead
I heard it all and what you said
Cause what you got is sweeter than water

Let me take you there
Let me sing my song
'Cause now you know I'm where I belong

And how did I know the thought would be in your head
And could have turned away instead
What you got is sweeter than water

What you got is sweeter than water

Let me take you there
Let me sing my song
'Cause now I know you're where you belong

And won't you let me take you there
