

The Accidental "Dream For Me"

Dream for me and keep them at a distance They fly around my head and make it hard for me to see

Tell me honestly and with absolute conviction
That the things I have are important I've broken all my vows I know and hidden in the shadows
But yesterday was perfect and again it is tonight

Let time begin at day

Shout with me and on a drunken stupor
We taste the things that make us laugh and memories are made
I'd foolishly forgotten my conviction
When I fell into that ocean full of rats and flies
But then came the sunlight and gone were the shadows
And now I'm seeing clearly that everything is mine

Let time begin at day

With veins full of purpose
And a destiny alive
With friends around it's effortless tonight

Let time begin at day
