

The Accidental "Time And Space"

Visit "Time And Space" on MotoLyrics.com

Time and space stretch out before you
And the universe implores you
To take your place
Amongst all things
And to see what the morning brings
To your own self be true
There's nothing more to do

You are young and the world is open
So many words you've never spoken
Don't be afraid to stand your ground
When your time it comes around
To your own self be true
There's nothing more to do

You are part of everything
Find your voice and start to sing

Time and space stretch out before you
And the universe implores you
To take your place
Amongst all things
And to see what the morning brings
You are part of everything
You are part of everything
