Can't see the path ahead
But I can smell the rain
Hide beneath the canopy
I never would complain
Eyes on the sky
We see the darkness start to grow
We could build a fire
Or just wait to drive
Here we are fine
I'm alive, I'm home

We traded everything and left the country side
Metal towers, skylines
Over lucid starlit nights
Found a north side neighborhood
That we could call our own
I'm just fine, I'm alive
I am home

I'm falling over edges with you
I'm longing just to see your face again
I'm taking on the world
To give you everything you need while I'm away

All our friends in our hometown
They don't call us anymore
I can't remember feeling less alone
When you call me yours

I'm falling over edges with you
I'm longing just to see your face again
I'm taking on the world
To give you everything you need while I'm away
I'm falling over edges with you
I'm longing just to see your face again
I'm taking on the world
To give you everything you need while I'm away

I pack my things at night
While you sleep
You could never stand to watch me leave

Wake up with the sun
Pull me in
And I'm in love with the whole world again
I'm falling over edges with you
I'm longing just to see

I'm falling over edges with you
I'm longing just to see your face again
I'm taking on the world
To give you everything you need while I'm away
