"Set Me In Motion"

Am I just a lonely wolf you hide under your bed
Far away from your friends
You keep me dry as a bone, just a ghost on the telephone
Far away from home

Won't you talk to me until I fall asleep
And come for me

You set me in motion
But you lead me astray
I'm still running backwards
But I know that I can change my ways

Fully drunk on prison wine, take two steps at a time
But never cross that line
And the way you hold me back is more than I can bear Hands pulling through my hair

So love me up against your bedroom wall
Or let me be

You set me in motion
But you lead me astray
I'm still running backwards
But I know that I can change my ways

You make it easy so I don't feel so ashamed
You spread your love around
(The moment that i feel safe)
You always turn me on and then you go and turn me out

I'm still running backwards
But I know that I can change

You set me in motion
But you lead me astray
I'm still running backwards
But I know that I can change my ways
