Should I tell you where I wanna be?
At the Sleeping Factory
Where people sleep in tidy rows
They're sleeping on their fronts and on their toes

Should I tell you where I wanna go?
To a sleepy undertow
Drifting away off in the deep
I wish there was a place I'd like to sleep

Should I tell you what I wanna do?
Find a bed and sleep with you
'Cause two can sleep, much more than one
And sleepin' with another's so much fun

And if we're gone, then leave us be
We're at the sleeping factory
And we'll be back in a week
They'll find us by the lake or by the creek

Dog of height in the trees
Won't you come down doggy
Such a sweet doggy
I brought you your dinner
My doggy I miss you kissing from my palm
I remember when I first got you doggy

But you lay there so still doggy
You lay there
So still

Dog who fell to the ground
Twisted your neck doggy
Don't look right doggy
The vet came with sutures
He said "Dave
Hey the doctor cannot save your dog"

But I remember when I first got you dog

You lay there so still dog

You lay there so still

Dog of depth in the dirt
They buried you deep doggy
You're the best doggy
My friend has a doggy
She's real nice dog
I wish you could chase her round my yard

I remember when I first got you dog
Sweet doggy

But you lay there so still doggy
You lay there so still
