Mold of the fall
I have been frozen there for days
With headlights reflecting in my face
I'm iced and cold on your lawn

But inside I'm okay
I can live without your dime
Where snowmen never melt
Instead they all went shy

And if you don't believe in fantasy
Then don't believe in fantasy
Do you not believe in fantasy because it gets you down?
If you don't believe it's raining
I won't tell you that it's raining
Do you not believe it's raining just because it gets you
down?

And if you don't believe in happiness
Then don't believe in happiness
Don't believe in happiness, but then you might be down
If you don't believe you're crying
Then don't believe you're crying
Do you not believe you're crying just because it gets you down?

Our bones are hardwired
And we go dancing on the lake
And sleds will carry us tonight
And snowflakes will blow us on our way

They slide to the sky
Rainbow ice slide downhill
Tears are frozen lovers
So we smile when we're crying

And if you don't believe in fantasy
Then don't believe in fantasy
Do you not believe in fantasy because it gets you
down?
If you don't believe it's raining

I won't tell you that it's raining
Do you not believe it's raining just because it gets you
down?
And if you don't believe in happiness
Then don't believe in happiness
Don't believe in happiness, but then you might be down
If you don't believe you're dying
Then don't believe you're dying
Do you not believe you're dying just because it gets you down?
