"Sundown To Midnight"

The sun went down without giving me anything
So I went downtown to see what night would bring
The people of town told me I don't need anything
Just be your own that's all we're asking to be

Rain falls on the righteous rain falls on the wicked
So where's my motivation to be anything different

Sundown....midnight

The sun went down without giving me anything
So I went downtown to see what night would bring
The people of town showed me I don't mean anything
If they can't get what they want outta me

Rain falls on the righteous rain falls on the wicked
So where's my motivation to be anything different
It's in the pictures in my mind it's in the way
The whole course of one man's life could turn
Around in the light of day

The sky falls red before me
You can't touch the things that I believe
And it's a joke when you bark the things you expect of me

Sundown to midnight...waiting for the daylight
