No fog clear in the moonlight

The stars shine so bright now's the time

I close my eyes - soft wind touch my face

Cool sand upon the place where I once kissed you

And held you close

Now I will reach for the stars

Because Oh my love, that's where you are

Chorus

Though the storms of black night rage on

I still see your face

I still feel your lips on mine

And though my heart feels all alone without you

I still hear you sing to me

I still hear your voice on the sea

Waves crash break the silence

Gulls cry a song of lament

I walk on through the stormy night

The air cries flash of anger

Dark night enshrouds the stranger all alone without you

Now I will reach for the stars

Because Oh my love, that's where you are

Chorus

No fog clear in the moonlight

The stars shine so bright now's the time

I close my eyes - soft wind touching my face

Cool sand upon the place where I once kissed you

And held you close

Now I will reach for the stars

Because Oh my love, that's where you are

Chorus
