We won't carry over
We are the new
We move it on

I'm outta mind with modern age ultraviolet syndrome
Beware mad scientists are stealing chromosomes
Experimental aircraft chemtrails across the sky Rain disease down on suburbia burning lungs stinging eyes Microcellular breakdown 'cause the cancer couldn't wait
Early morning at the clinic methadone helps shake the shakes
For another ninety days, mother daughter alanon
Electroshock on blacktop blown away oblivion

US Army and the Navy hovercraft on beachhead Anti-tank gun missile meshing blood and bone and lead
Past and present combined stress psychadelic Vietnam Paratrooper won't elaborate about the burning bombs of napalm
Rust and blood and telecaster helicopter spotlight
Seven-forty-seven shot straight out the sky
National security global emergency Civilizations unraveled seams

Bionic build titanium broken bones and x-rays Couple cans of neon spraypaint half a dozen razorblades
Propoganda posters clinchin tight around my brain
No synapse can make connection no idea can cause change

We ain't around, she ain't around
We don't need them anyway, said
We're gonna drop them to the ground

We ain't around, straight around Outta mind with modern age
We're gonna drop them to the ground
