Well, I've been driftin', liftin' my mind with these splits
And realizin' just in life what I'm missin'
There so much more then just regrets 'cause if you can't
Love yourself how can you love the next

Yo, me and dirty we been kickin' it since old school
And I remember just chillin' out in my back yard
Sippin on some 40's writing songs laughing so hard

It always seemed like such a dream to me
It always seemed like it was so far from reality
But deep inside I always knew that it would be my path
And if I ever got a chance, yo, I would make it last but I've been

Driftin' so long from myself and from the pain
Driftin' so long, think I found a better way
I found a better way and now I strive for better days

I feel like I've been changing
And I dont' like just what I see
I feel like I'm the victim
And my own worst enemy

Well, I've been driftin' missin' the times
We didn't listen to no one but ourselves
Because we knew we were on a mission
No one ever thought it'd happen
For two of the boys to get paid for rapping

I got people looking after me the way I go the path I lead
Some say it's not a job but we practice like an athlete
I'm constantly driftin' but I finally found what I need It's passing me in forms of speech every time I pass the beach

Driftin' so long from myself and from the pain
Driftin' so long, think I found a better way
I found a better way and now I strive for better days

Well, I lost my path but I found my way
We can all learn from our own mistakes
Sometimes I'm wrong but I learn that way
But we won't ever know until we stop

Driftin' so long from myself and from the pain
Driftin' so long, think I found a better way

I've been driftin', I've been driftin'
I've been driftin', I've been away
