Cause if we lived a long time ago, these would be my love letters to you, to you
If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you

Well these words that I write they go up in the sky Sit up in space and come down to your eyes, its true, itâ€™s true
I donâ€™t need no birds to fly, I can send my love through a satellite, its true, itâ€™s true

If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you
If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you
If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you
If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you

Well, I donâ€™t need no plane or train or automobile
To send you all my love and ask you how do you feel, itâ€™s true, itâ€™s true
I used to keep your letters underneath my bed
Now at a push of a button, they go straight to my head Itâ€™s true, they go straight to my head

If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you
If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you

And if there was a blackout, I would have to let you know Iâ€™d light a thousand lanterns in the sky and let them go Iâ€™d watch them float away and burn out right next to the stars
But at least youâ€™d know I sent my love and that the brightest ones were ours

Cause If we lived a long time ago, these would be my

If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you
If we lived a long time ago, these would be my love
letters to you, to you
