I step right of the edge, let the blood rush to my head, im going down to were the lucky ones have bled, i lift the veil up,
to reveal a facination, if you crave it then you know that you are injured, im holding on.

For what you do to me,
baby theres no measure,
i've taken everything,
now i want to give it,
i left the lights on,
so you stumble in devotion,

So easy,
so easy,
and im holding on,
i've come to relize your the only thing i want,

Im falling all the way in,
im falling all the way in,
i've fallen all the way in,
i've fallen all the way in.
