I'm a lizard, I'm a spy, I'm your ticket, won't you try Someone's at the door, they're five or four Where they come from, I just don't know

One at a time Freaks get in line What are you waiting for

Let it all go, this is your great escape
Wait and see when it's over Won't bow my head in shame

I will put my hands around your neck and won't let go until your face is turning blue Give me your cue I'll decide if I see it through

I'll state my claim I'll stalk the night What are we waiting for

Let it all go, this is your great escape
Wait and see when it's over I won't bow my head in shame I see those signs flashing

They're shittin' their pants of, but they wanted to Taken their pants of, cause they want me to Turning the lights of, cause they hate the view Make them feel close to the edge I ain't telling their wives
if they're gay, man dress up like a bride, seek and hide Whore I ain't, though I look good with a whip in my hand
You're a sad little man, but you do what you can

Wait no more, let it all go, this is your great escape Wait and see when it's over, won't bow my head in shame I see those signs light up Master of Disguise
