You didn't push him into anything! It was like rolling out and he did what he had to do. You ain't right if you're guilty for what happened, you don't. You're a champion and you did what you're expected to do and you did what I and everyone else thought you should do. And you wanna tell me that those fights weren't real? That you will carry? Well, I don't believe you! It doesn't matter what I believe, because you are the one that's got to carry that fear around and inside you. Afraid that everybody's gonna take these days away. But I know that it's true, it doesn't matter if I do, it doesn't matter, because you are the one that's gotta set with it. Get rid of it! Even if all this smoke is cleared and everyone start shouting your name, it's just gonna be US. It's just gonna be us. It's just gonna be us.
