Truly, truly was the best there was hair pulled back and a fist thrown she seemed to fit but no one does memories grow sweeter as the days escape my grasp and i will try to plan our future with this woman in my past

don't try to rearrange it
things that you take with you, you can never leave behind
don't try to
seperate us
now i keep this future with this truly on mind

Baby, baby won't you come back home it's cold outside and if the wind should blow ????? frozen to my toungue the pages stick together when you leave me here alone and i will try to find a future with the only one i know

don't try to
seperate us
now i keep this future with this truly on mind

Truly On My Mind
