(Tzvetin Todorov/Gregor Van Offeren)

Trying to get it out of your mind, trying to leave these things behind
Feels like you wanna run away on iron shoes.
Wanna get that weight off your back
Wanna ease the strain on your neck
You're standing on a crossroad, what shall you choose

Now, I can hardly feel what you've been through.
Still your tears to me are no taboo
'Cause when you cry, it hurts me too.
I can't say I've been in your shoes
But I'd love to bring some good news
'Cause when you cry, it hurts me too.

(Solo)

Now, I can hardly feel what you've been through.
Still your tears to me are no taboo
'Cause when you cry, it hurts me too.
I can't say I've been in your shoes
But I'd love to bring some good news
'Cause when you cry, it hurts me too.

See I'm your friend when you feel alone.
I'm your friend when you need a home.
I'm your friend each and every day.
I'm your friend, all along the way.
I'm your friend when you don't know what to do.
I'm your friend, I will pull you through, ooh ooh, I'm
your friend.
I'm your friend, I'm your friend, I'm your friend, I'm
your friend.
I'm your friend, I'm your friend, I'm your friend, I'm
your friend.
