One, two, three, four

Shoe gazers in blazers
Introduce you to razors so that
The Wilson twins, they can see you
In all your glory, in all your glory

Don't you care what all the people say
You don't care, you're gonna do it any way
All eyes on you and they're burning holes till
There's no one left inside, have you know pride?

How many pairs do you own?
How many patches have you sewn on your sleeve?
Now don't you dare mend the holes
They tell your story, yeah they tell your story
(Sell your story)

Don't you care what all the people say
You don't care, you're gonna do it any way
All eyes on you and they're burning holes till
There's no one left inside, have you know pride?

What do you write in that journal?
Some kind of infernal poetry
So that I'll offer my help
But don't you worry, now don't you worry

Don't you care what all the people say
You don't care, you're gonna do it any way
All eyes on you and they're burning holes till
There's no one left inside, have you know pride?

Let's take a walk through the crowd
Let's take a walk through the crowd
Let's take a walk through the crowd
