We keep in line but it's all for nothing
All for not

And the songs they keep singing
Now forgot

And the times keep changing
Way too much
But it keeps us proven tough

It's just another pretense
Nothings what it seems
We talk amongst ourselves
Just to make them think
In time and out of sync

We speak the truth but it's all for nothing
It won't stop

We open up do our words mean anything
Not enough

The times keep changing
Way too much
But it keeps us moving on

It's just another pretense
Nothings what it seems
We talk amongst ourselves
Just to make them think
We stay in line together
Open arms will never sever

And a white light reigns down
And it spreads amongst the crowd
Feel the love shine through our hearts eternally
It keeps us all in time
One body, soul, and mind
Won't fade until the end

Then the red eyes stair you down

Then the red eyes stair you down
The red eyes stair you down and out
